TUESDAY, MAY 25, 1880.

Associated Press Telegram

HAVAS' AGENCY

Paris, 22nd.

Things look better at Lille, and many of the strikers have resumed work, and although the strike is not over, fears of disorder have ceased.

At Barcelona the hands of a large factory struck, and burned the whole place down. Great damage. A thousand men on strike.

25TH OF MAY.

The feast we commemorate to-day is the greatest in the Argentine calendar. It was the first strike of the people of this country for their liberty, which culminated on the 9th July, 1816, in the complete independence not only of this, but the neighbouring South American Republics. To revive the spirit and feelings that led to this great move is all the more opportune at present, when political rancor and animosity have done so much to split up the Argentine family. The men of 1810 were heroes of a far different stamp from the politicians of to-day. There was very little of the Patria Chica in the men who crossed the Andes and never sheathed their swords until they liberated, not a country, or a Republic, or a Province, but a CONTINENT. From Callao to Buenos Ayres the liberties of the people were achieved by the heroes of the 25th of May. There is something so grand and magnificent in their struggle, their broad programme and splendid career that, when we measure those great men with the political Lilliputians of the hour, we doubt all Argentine genealogy.

"Oh! for the swords of former days—
Oh! for the men who bore them."

The commemoration of this independence day comes, this year between two great national feasts—the Rivadavia Centenary and the return of the ashes of San Martin. Thus it is that, this year, everything conspires to awaken in the hearts of Argentines the spirit of their forefathers, which, to judge by the intense political excitement of the hour is all but extinguished.

The auspices under which the country enters this, its 71st anniversary, might be brighter. Error, deep, burning, political error, is stamped too freshly on our affairs to be overlooked. We have had far too much of the Remington and the Krupp during the past year: our progress has, doubtless, continued, but it is too highly tinted with error to escape remark. We may be a great, glorious and powerful people in time to come, and none more than ourselves believe in the country's future, but we lack political ballast. The plough, not the Remington—the threshing machine, not the Krupp battery. Great, glorious and free as is this country, there are willing hands amongst us to tear down our flag-staff and destroy in an hour what three centuries accomplished.

The spirit of the 25th of May, 1810, needs well to be invoked. If Argentines remember the past, then they will never err. The past is a tremendous lesson, and even in the short epoch—the three score and ten years of this young country—there are blank pages, chapters of chaos, anarchy and tyranny, that speak trumpet-tongued to the people, and shout, even on this great festive day—BEWARE!

The feast we commemorate and the day we celebrate should be made by Argentines of every political creed the fit opportunity for reconciliation and friendly arrangement; and here, around the cradle of Rivadavia, the coffin of San Martin, and Liberty's pyramid of 25 de Mayo, Argentines should lay down their arms, and join hands to celebrate their traditions which are noble, their heroes never to be forgotten, and their liberties which have survived every storm—and perish the traitor who would imperil them.

THE STILETTO.

The funeral on last Sunday of Dr. Perez, the murdered Cordovese priest, was attended by over 500 of the principal people of this city: and, as the coffin was carried through the streets and Plaza by the people, and every one walked uncovered, whilst the friars of San Francisco chanted the 'De Profundis,' the scene was extremely impressive.

The San Francisco Church was draped in the deepest mourning, and during the funeral service standing-room could hardly be obtained. The Archbishop and nearly all the clergy of the city attended the service. Dr. Plaza (our late Minister of Hacienda), Drs. Pizarro, Velez, Carranza, and many members of Congress were in the procession; but we could see no member of either Government present. Nearly all the rich representative native Catholic families were there, and the large number of English speaking Catholics that attended attracted much remark amongst the Argentine gentlemen who followed the corpse.

Dr. Perez, the untimely victim of this shocking crime, was a native of Tucuman, and a distinguished member of the clergy of the diocese of Cordova. He was cut off in the very morning of life, a veritable ecclesiastical martyr, at the age of 28 years, leaving a mother to mourn his loss. He was stabbed, it is generally supposed, with a poisoned stiletto, half a square from the Plaza Victoria, on the night of the 20th, and thirty hours afterwards, notwithstanding every care and attention by the friars of San Francisco, and aided by the very best medical skill, he expired.

The shock which this crime has caused equals the indignation which all good citizens feel that so fair and beautiful a feast as the Centenary of Rivadavia should have had so terrible and tragic a finale. Public justice and public morality have been outraged; and it was the honest indignation that we all felt at so appalling a crime that filled the streets and the plaza with defiant mourners. It is proposed that some steps should be taken to offer a reward for the discovery of the assassin, and a Protestant Scotch gentleman who attended the funeral is anxions to head the list. But we have had so many attempts of this kind that we know full well, unless the Government takes the matter in hand and sets the example, rewards offered in this country for the arrest of assassins rarely amount to anything.

The murder of Dr. Perez is not an ordinary crime, since it is presumed that none of the ordinary motives for such an act influenced the assassin. Dr. Perez arrived in this city on the morning of the 20th. and on the evening of the same day visited the Archbishop and the Apostolic Delegate, and it was when returning home, and when he had just reached the corner of Calle Victoria and Defensa that he was so treacherously stabbed by a party utterly unknown to him, without the slightest altercation or quarrel. A crime so unusual and so unprovoked taxes us all for a motive; and it was said by parties in the funeral procession that the assassin had vowed to murder the first priest he met. But society has certain obligations which must be discharged, and the funeral we report was a spontaneous protest by the citizens, which, we trust, will have some effect. As the funeral cortege passed down Calle Florida the azoteas were crowded, the windows thrown open, the balconies and side-walks thronged, reminding one forcibly of the awful mutability of human affairs. But a few hours previously we had all marched down that street with bands playing, flags flying, and as happy as the day was long in commemorating the Centenary of the statesman, patriot, and citizen; and who in that mighty crowd of 50,000 human beings could have lifted the veil and held to our vision the funeral cortege of which we now formed a part? Verily, in the midst of life is death, and so sad a lesson seems to have a far higher significance than it the crime had been perpetrated under less appalling circumstances. The hand that buried the stiletto in the priest's stomach is after all but a dull agent of a social current that it well behoves us to look to. The priest is not the only victim: society is outraged, public morality is impeached, and public honor and public virtue demand a vindication. That it will come is as certain as all the chequered experiences of our race can attest. The stiletto has never yet been employed to further any of the great causes of humanity. Victims are never wanting when religion and morality are attacked; and Providence, divine, and far-seeing Providence, will guide the public men and the public mind to a reaction that will defy the power of the stiletto and the treacherous hands that use it.

In Europe the Socialists and Nihilists mark their men and kill them, but in Buenos Ayres it would seem that it is not against the individual but the class that hostility is declared. The poor inoffensive priest from Cordova perished like the son of the Cretan King, but who was the Idomeneus? At the funeral on Sunday we noticed people following in the procession, of various religious persuasions, which proves that the hand that killed the priest struck not only at the Catholic, but at all religion.

Dr. Perez has not perished in vain: he has fallen a martyr to his religion and his cloth: his funeral dirge re-echos through the country, awakening feelings that do honor to us all. It is not the first case of stiletto murder that has occurred in this city, and it is for the authorities to say whether it will be the last. If ever a case called for the most searching enquiry—if ever a crime demanded the most condign punishment—it is the one in question. B. Ayres has much at issue in the matter; and, plunged as we all are in politics, business and the affairs of life, a new and terrible element springs up amongst us, whose agent is the stiletto: It points downwards; let us look to it.

The Herschel's Mails.

London 24th April.

Sir Donald Stewart has defeated a large force of Afghan tribesmen who assailed him on the 19th inst. at a place about twenty-three miles from Ghuznee. A body of 3,000, 'fanatic swordsmen' made a gallant attack on the British column, but were mown down by the breech-loader; and after an hour's fighting the Afghan force dispersed, leaving more than a thousand dead on the field. Our losses were 17 killed and 115 wounded. The march was resumed shortly after the action and on the 20th the advanced cavalry entered Ghuznee.

The Porte has again suppressed that much-enduring newspaper the Levant Herald. The cause of offence is not stated. An arrangement was made on Thursday by which the territory exchanged with Montenegro for the districts of Gussinje and Plava should have been formally made over yesterday. The entire credit of the peaceable arrangement between Constantinople and Gettinje appears to be due to Count Corti, the Ambassador of Italy. The influence of England at the Porte has fallen to the lowest point.

The Australians are seriously engaged with the question how to export fresh meat to England at a profit. The success of a recent experiment has encouraged hopes that a large trade may be done. If the necessary shipping accommodation can be obtained, Queensland alone could send scores of thousands of tons of meat to this country. The prospect before the British grazier is not very encouraging; but the British butcher and the 'middlemen' no doubt regard it with complacency. No amount of importations appears to affect very materially the general average of the prices they obtain.

The German Government proposes to levy a 'defence tax' on all persons who are exempted from military service. The tax will be levied on a graduated scale, and will, it is estimated, produce about one million sterling per annum. After this bill passes, the German citizen who may from any cause whatever be exempt from service will have to pay, in addition to his share of the normal taxation, a special tax for the privilege of being defended from the inroads of those French, Austrian, or Russian hosts which are represented as being always ready to pounce upon the hapless Teuton.

Five deaths have been caused by the fall of a portion of Gilmore's Garden buildings in New York, and a loan collection of pictures, valued at £30,000 was almost entirely destroyed.

The United States Government has now in the Treasury vaults at Washington the handsome balance of ten millions out of the fifteen million dollars which we paid under the Geneva award. Congress has not yet been able to agree upon a plan for the equitable distribution of this money, and it probably never will. The last of the numerous bills on the subject was dealt with in the Senate on Wednesday. A provision admitting the underwriters' claims was struck out by 38 votes to 19, and the supporters of the bill therefore abandoned it.

Mr Gladstone was 'sent for' yesterday, and in the evening had an audience of Her Majesty at Windsor. The course of events seems to have been as follows: The Marquis of Hartington and Earl Granville conferred together yesterday morning, and left London before noon for Windsor, where they had an audience with Her Majesty extending over an hour. On their return to town the two noble Lords proceeded direct to Mr Gladstone's residence, and after conferring with them the right hon. gentleman proceeded to Windsor. He returned to London shortly after nine o'clock in the evening. It is understood that he has accepted the Premiership.

The Daily News says that the statement published in some journals, that Mr Brand will decline nomination to the Speakership of the new House of Commons, is without foundation. It follows that there is no truth in the announcement, which has also been made, that Mr Adam will be brought forward as a candidate for the office. Our contemporary also says the report is entirely untrue that Mr Bright feels precluded by the state of his health from becoming a member of the new Government.

The shower of titles and decorations is not yet over. In addition to the baronetcy conferred on Sir E. W. Watkin, which we announced yesterday, we learn that similar distinctions have been conferred upon Mr Edward Bates, M.P., the great Liverpool shipowner, and Colonel Campbell, of Blythswood. Lord Edwin Hill-Trevor, M.P., for county Down, is to be raised to the peerage under the title of Lord Dungannon. The title became extinct on the death of the third Viscount Dungannon, a portion of whose estates the new peer inherited, in 1862.

The statement that the Earl of Breadalbane, the Marquis of Hartington, and Lord Carlingford have been appointed trustees of the Reform Club is incorrect. The fact is that in the report of the Committee of that Club, to be considered at the annual meeting on the 6th May, the names of those noblemen recommended by the Committee will be submitted to the members. The vacancies have arisen from the deaths of Lords Dalhousie and Romilly, and from the resignation of Lord Charlemount in 1874, who for the last year or two has been a rather ardent and active supporter of the foreign policy of the 'late-present' Government. Mr Bret Harte has been accorded the privileges of the Reform Club for a month under the rule which admits distinguished strangers for that period.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint Major-General Biddulph, R.A., C.B., High Commissioner of Cyprus, and Mr Thomas G. Knox, late Agent and Consul-General in Siam, to be Knights Commanders of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George; and Lieutenant-Colonel Francis Clarke, R.A., late her Majesty's Commissioner for the Demarcation of the Frontier of Turkey in Asia, to be a Companion of the said Most Distinguished Order.

The Queen has been pleased to confer the honour of Companion of the Civil Division of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath on Mr. Gerard Gould, her Majesty's Minister-Resident at Belgrade, and on Major Henry Trotter, R.E., her Majesty's Consul for Koordistan.

In the Probate and Divorce Division yesterday an action for nullity of marriage was raised, at the instance of Alethea Emma Harvey, against her husband Henry B. Farine, the dramatist. The ground of the action was that, at the time of marriage with plantiff, the respondent's first wife from whom he separated by a Scotch decree of divorce, was alive, and that the marriage with the plaintiff was therefore null. The Court held the divorce to be good, and the petition of the wife was therefore dismissed.

THE DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH

The trustees of the Duchess of Marlborough Relief Fund have unanimously adopted an address which alludes in warm terms to the value of the Duchess's exertions for the people of Ireland. Her Grace has issued a 'farewell' to the distressed districts of Ireland. The letter, which is as follows, is printed in Irish as well as English:—

"Viceregal Lodge, Dublin,
April 21, 1880.

"Dear Friends—Before leaving Ireland, to return to my English home, I am anxious to say a few words of farewell to those whose distress has occupied my thoughts all the winter. It is now four months since I appealed to the English nation for aid to avert the famine threatening those parts of Ireland which in consequence of the bad season had suffered the almost entire destruction of their crops and turf. The answer to my appeal came at once in the immediate remittance of large sums of money, including contributions from Her Majesty the Queen, the Royal family, the Lord Mayor of London, and the mayors and public bodies of the great cities from every part of England. High and low, rich and poor, old and young, all hastened to send me subscriptions, accompanied by expressions of the deepest sympathy, pity, and sorrow. While the poor Irish were in their dire need England did not hesitate a moment. The stream of charity flowed on uninterruptedly. I have received a sum of about £112,000, and I have thus been enabled, with the assistance of my committee, to supply food, clothes, and potatoe seed to those districts which were most in want. There remains an unexpended balance of nearly £15,000, which I propose to leave in good hands, to be appropriated among the most destitute until the next harvest, which will, I trust, with God's providence, bring you plenty and prosperity. I wish to explain this to you in order that you should know that England loves Ireland, and is ever ready to help her in her hour of need; and now, bidding you farewell, and praying that happy and prosperous days may be in store for you, I cannot refrain from hoping you will retain a kindly remembrance of me, and believe that I am your sincere friend,

"Frances Anne Marlborough."

FAIR'S PORT SCHEME.

We are glad to see that the London proposal to build docks on the Brittain property between the Boca and the Yellow House is now before the Chambers, very important modifications having been made by Mr. Woodgate, who has been invited to take charge of the business. The note of Dr. E Lamarca is too long for our columns, but we give the following extract of it, and in our next issue will give the new bases. It is to be hoped that the present Legislature will take into consideration and at once pass this important scheme, which has been two years before the Government and was thoroughly made public last year:—

B. Ayres, 15th May, 1880.

May it please Your Excellency.

The undersigned, in October last, withdrew the proposal made by Mr. John Fair to construct the Channel and Docks of the Riachuelo, having, as he then stated, received instructions to introduce certain modifications which materially affect it.

These modifications relate not only to the change in the person of the concessionaire, but also to the principal clauses of the proposal.

On several occasions I was obliged to write to London pointing out the necessity of a sindicate resident in Buenos Ayres being appointed, or that Mr. Fair should come out himself, or at any rate that an agent should be sent out with the full powers which the nature of the negotiations required. It was not possible to arrange by telegraph, and much less by letters, the difficulties which were arising, and which my power only enabled me to settle 'ad referendum.' Indeed I believe that the former proposal was unsuccessful owing to these defects.

I repeatedly pointed out that it was necessary that I should have in Buenos Ayres a person versed in these matters, possessing a knowledge of the statistics and trade of the port, and able to appreciate correctly our commercial and financial position, at the same time able to confirm or correct my opinions on these points, and above all one who could judge of the political features which have affected us during the last year.

The necessity of attending to my request was understood in London, and Mr Fair has consented to cede his rights as concessionaire in favor of Mr Christopher Frederic Woodgate, in whose name I now present myself, and to transfer to him all the plans, documents etc. then in my possession, Mr Woodgate assuming all his responsibility towards the capitalists in England.

Here follow all the remarks regarding the modifications in the new proposal, which consist of advancing £300,000 for the Government to make the channel instead of the Company making it, and of making the docks to admit not only sailing vessels, but also the ocean steamers. Dr. Lamarca concludes in these words:—

"Let me be allowed to solicit the prompt dispatch of this work, as it is of urgent necessity to obtain a solution, be it favorable or adverse; it favorable, in order that the Company may definitely conclude its arrangements in London, and avail itself of the advantageous proposals which it has received, with the view to be able to commence the works next October; and if adverse, in order to be free from engagements and stop the expense of a negociation from June 1878.

"In conclusion, while begging that this proposal may be passed to the Provincial Senate, I comply with the kind injunction which I have received to solicit from Y.E.'s Government a favorable word in support of a proposal so advantageous to my country.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Twenty-fifth of May! We cordially salute our Argentine readers and colleagues on this auspicious date, wishing our adopted country a speedy end to its passing political troubles and a long continuance and development of its present material prosperity. 'Viva la Republica!

Our Office, 154 Calle Piedad, is open to-day, from 9 till 11 a.m. for the sale of Packet Editions.

Sunday was an uncommonly fine day, and that well-known personage Mr. Everbody turned out to enjoy himself. There was a prodigious display of 'haut ton' equipages at at Palermo, but the attendance in the Hippodrome, to see the National Games etc, was very meagre, which was a pity, as they were well worth seeing. The theatres were well filled at night.

Thursday and Friday next will also be holidays, the first being the Feast of Corpus Christi and the second the day on which General San Martin's remains will be officially received and laid in the Mausoleum, in the Cathedral, specially built for them. The ceremony promises to be as imposing as the Rivadavia Centenary. We received the programme yesterday, also an invitation for the whole Standard staff to walk in the procession. We are forced to hold over the programme till our next issue. All parties attending the funeral must wear a knot of the national colours, bound with crape, on the left arm. The remains will be landed at the Catalinas Mole, and the procession to the Cathedral will go by Calles Florida, Peru, Victoria and round the Plaza to the Cathedral door: The pall will be carried by 14 of the foremost citizens of the Republic. It is expected that there will be even more foreign Clubs and Societies present than at the Centenary on Thursday last. Perhaps the most interesting personage in the procession will be Acorta, San Martin's drummer, who will wear the same uniform and carry the self-same drum on which he so often beat the 'pas de charge' by order of the Great Captain.

A little girl of six years was killed by a cock on Friday, near Plaza Lorea. She was teasing a hen who was sitting on an egg, and a cock flew at her, burying his beak in her temple and killing her on the spot.

The English Literary Society received yesterday an official invitation to attend the ceremonies in connection with the reception of General San Martin's remains, on Thursday next, 28th inst. Mr Jordan, the President, could not attend the meeting on Sunday, as he only received the invitation yesterday.

On Saturday last the much esteemed Mr. Lohèzie, ex-Secretary of the Comte du Brossard, was solemnly married in the Archbishop's Chapel to Mrs. Mercedes Oromi de Casares. The wealthy widow represents a capital of about $20,000,000 m|c. Her first husband was the late esteemed Mr. Mariano Casares.

Prince Henry of Germany, who was at Montevideo some months ago, has sent the Oriental Minister of War, Colonel Santos, a splendid diamond pin, surmounted with a gold crown and bearing his initial H., to mark His Imperial Highness's sense of the kind reception accorded him by the Government and people of Montevideo.

The weather is so shockingly cold that every man in town is rushing about on the look-out for top-coats and ponchos. The best poncho we know of is Mr. Ledger's Salta article, which defies competition either as to warmth, impermeability, or cheapness. Messrs. Gebbie and Dodds, the well-known 'tenderos' of Calle Defensa, have them on sale.

Talk of the heat of summer in the River Plate! It's Polar cold compared with what they experience in Adelaide, South Australia. The official returns of the Government Observatory there show that, on the 26th January last, the thermometer marked 116 Fahrt. in the shade and 172 in the sun, the latter only 40 deg. below the point at which water boils! A subscriber who has lived there told us yesterday that he has often seen the apples nicely stewed on the trees there, and that the houses are generally constructed so as to allow inmates to live underground. We'd rather live overground in the Plate.

The attendance at the Merced Church on Sunday, to hear Father Martin's Charity Sermon, was large, but, owing to the funeral of Dr. Perez, the murdered Cordovese priest, there was no sermon and no collection. Father Martin read a paper he had written, exhorting the Irish people of Buenos Ayres to take some steps for either the opening of the Irish Hospital or the building of a new one. Subscription lists are opened at the Merced Church, and all who wish to subscribe to so deserving an object will please call and put down their names.

The debut of the Lupi company at the Politeama was a great success. The contralto is simply splendid, and the orchestra very good. Ladies who wish to hear Offenbach and Lecoq's works, with the objectionable part cut out, should go to the Politeama.

The weather was not so cold yesterday, and many people predict immediate rain. As for the Standard barometer, our change of office seems to disagree with it, as it has not budged an inch from 'Stormy' for the last week.

We hear that the Villarino, the new transport which has brought out San Martin's remains, is the handsomest and best-built ship in the Argentine Navy. This happy result is in a great measure due to the unceasing exertions and supervision of Mr Garcia, the Argentine Minister in London, who, from the moment when the keel was laid to the completion of the transport, never ceased in his patriotic endeavours. Mr Garcia's services certainly deserve some recognition from Government, and his gallant young son also. The latter has served two years in the French Navy, learning his noble profession, and has now come out as an auxiliary officer on board the new transport. We understand that he was considered a very promising officer by the French Commanders under whom he served.

The rising generation appear to be as crazy as ever about the title of L.L.D. although the profession is fast becoming the worst paying in the country. 'Twenty-seven' new lawyers were received yesterday. God preserve the Republic!

The police are on the track of a Portuguese of shady antecedents who is strongly suspected to be the murderer of poor Father Perez.

One of the employees recently dismissed from the public service was arrested for using threatening language to the effect that the loss of his place would cause at least 500 persons the loss of their lives. When the Commissary asked him what on earth he meant by contemplating murder on such a scale, he replied that what he wished to convey was that he intended to turn doctor, to earn a living.

Telegrams from Chile announce the sudden death of Colonel Sotomayor, Chilian Minister of War, in the field: a fit of apoplexy is said to have caused the sad event.

Dr. Nicolas Calvo arrived here yesterday from Montevideo on board the Villarino.

Mr. Ferrari has engaged a new tenor, for the Colon Theatre, vice Bulterini laid up with a sprained ankle—Giamini, an artist from the Solis, Montevideo, who made a splendid impression down there.

There are three holidays this week—Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. This merry month of May 1880 has proved a genuine teazer in the way of politics and holidays. We have had far too much of both, and the lamentations of business men are pitiable to hear.

Half-a-dozen accidents are laid to the door of the fireworks on Thursday night. The Exhibition workshops were set on fire, but the police mastered the flames; an Italian had his pantaloons blown off by a bomb, another his knees smashed, another his leg burned, and another his face scorched. Until the Lord Mayor or some other big-wig is blown clean over the Recoba, the dangerous custom of having fireworks in the middle of a densely crowded Plaza will be adhered to.

We are requested to advise our friends that the 'pic-nic' prepared for the children of St. John's English Sunday School, will come off on Thursday, the 27th inst., at Palermo. The train leaves the Central at 9.55 a.m., and returns from Palermo at 4.18 p.m. Teachers, children and friends will please meet at the schoolroom about nine o'clock, a.m., on Thursday to obtain their tickets. The railway fare is $6 m|c for full tickets, and $3 m|c for half tickets.

THE GEM PUZZLE.

Mr. Editor,

In common with the rest of mankind I have amused myself with this new game, so elaborately discussed by you in the Standard of May 16, under the name '15.' It would be acceptable to receive some tangible guarantee of the various offers of $100, £20, 1,000 pesos m|c, etc. etc. said to be awaiting a solution of the puzzle, which shall be satisfactory to this or that public benefactor whose purse is yet more ample than his pate.

But, that our Buenos Ayres may not bring up the rear in this intellectual race, I am tempted to contribute a word regarding it, relying on the honor of the prize-givers to replenish my finances.

That one-armed defender of his country's flag, who, although a conductor on the Boston and Providence Railway, is in fact a deaf and dumb man in Ohio, and a member of the leading Welsh family of Jones, and supports that family and himself by peddling tinware through Vermont, and to whom, if the statements of the daily press be correct, the origin of the puzzle is to be attributed, neglected to mention that the various possible combinations of the numbered blocks may be divided into two distinct classes. Only one of these admits of arrangement according to the diagram printed on the cover, which requires that the numbers shall follow in regular order from left to right, and from above downwards, the vacant square being left at the lower right-hand corner.

Those gifted beings who accomplished this, after having obtained a regular order in three rows, followed by 13 15 14, in the last one, are entitled to a joint immortality with the discoverers of perpetual motion and the squarers of the circle. They might advantageously change places with the numberless fellow-creatures said to have been driven into lunatic asylums by their want of similar success.

It may, however, interest you or some of your readers to know that the second-class, or that to which the last-named combination belongs, may also be solved in literal comformity with the written directions, and this in two different ways. It may be done by leaving the vacant space at the end of the third line, and also by making the order of the numbers run in opposite directions in alternate lines, furrowwise, thus—

1	2	3	4		1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	or	8	7	6	5
9	10	11	—		9	10	11	12
12	13	14	15		—	15	14	13

There is no combination which may not be referred to one or the other of these two classes, but none which belongs to the one can possibly be transformed into the other without violating the conditions of the puzzle.

Since writing the above I have been gratified by seeing a paragraph in the 'lower right-hand corner' of your issue of May 18. With characteristic generosity I waive any personal claim to the reward there offered, to be communicated in writing. But, should the advertizer insist on paying the sum named, I would suggest that it be made useful to the world by heading a subscription to secure an additonal clerk in the National Ministry of Public Instruction, to be employed in answering or acknowledging letters, notes and telegrams.

The week has opened with a very dull gold market, the total sales of the day only amounting to 103,159 pats, which on a narrow computation gives about 3 m|c commission per broker. The Civic feasts still hold sway; this week three holidays interrupt business. It is very seldom we have three holidays in a week, but if the influence of so many civic feasts in the least help to improve the political situation then the commemorations are not in vain. As for the gold market, the Bolsa might as well have remained closed for the business transacted, since any exchange shop in the street could have sold the amount. Gold opened at 30.75, and closed at 30.70, only 32,159 sold cash, and for June prices closed at 30.70.

Cedulas during business hours were done at 87½, but at afterhours were sold as high as 87½ some 6,000. The amortization drawing took place to-dey and the extraordinary large number of prizes 120,000 drawn. The numbers will be published in a few days.

To-morrow a special meeting of the Bolsa will be held to arrange about walking at the San Martin affair. There was much said about this business, and many English merchants stated that they will join Mr Jordan on Friday and walk in the procession the same as the German merchants. Mr Jordan, we believe, gives a general invitation for the occasion.

The Memphis from Valparaiso to Mr. Scharffenorth entered yesterday, and the Valparaiso passengers were let out of quarantine yesterday. The American barque S B Hale, with a Cape cottage cargo of pine has entered to Mr C S Roberts.

The division of the Argentine squadron accompanying the San Martin remains entered port to-day, the ships looked well in the offing and in good trim; the celebration on Friday threatens to eclipse everything of the kind in this country.

French gold was sold to-day at 2½ prem. exchange most dull, the rates are 49½-¾, very little done.

The scene at the corner of Calle San Martin and Cangallo, when the workmen placed the new asphalte bricks pavement between the tramway rails, baffles description. Everyone wanted to inspect the new bricks, and we secured for our office a sample of this new pavement composition. We believe this splendid improvement is due to the enterprize of M. Forrester and Co, the Agents of the Co. Some brokers who have travelled much, state that the same asphaltic combination they remarked in some of the Pyramids of Egypt. A city paved with such pavement would indeed be worthy of the greatest Pharaohs, and the best of all is that the whole thing can be native manufacture.

The sale of the gem puzzle No. 15 surpasses every belief. It would be easier to solve the 13, 15, 14 puzzle than to guess the gains of Mr Wetzlar, the importer.

Several sales of Rio Negro Government land were concluded last week by Mr Rom; many parties have secured estancias of 8-10 square leagues at the Government figure of 10,000 m|c per league.

The total stock of wool in market now is put down at 65,000 ar., and the total receipts of the clip show a good increase on the previous year—

Clip	1879/80..	5,940,000 ar.
"	1878/79..	5,060,000 ar.
Sheepskins..	1879/80..	210 875 bales
" ..	1878/79..	183,747 bales

This shows an increase of 27,128 bales on the former clip. Yet at the beginning of the season people said there would be less wool this year than last. They erred.

The Gironde clears to-morrow, and it being a holiday the mails close early; she takes many passengers and a good cargo.

The splendid lot of wool from Concordia sold by Mr Ramsay last week, and which fetched the highest market price, was from Mr McNeill's estancia Indio Muerto, Chajari Entre Rios. A very well known estancia up there.

The gold sales were:—

For cash 33,159 30.75-70
For May 31st 50,000 30.75
For June 30th 20,000 30.70
Sales 103,159.

Cedulas—

For May 31st 5,000 86⅝

National Bank Shares—

For cash 50 shares at 67½
For May 31st 20 shares 67¾

At afterhours there was more done in exchange, and some brokers report, that the Provincial Bank took fully $50,000 at 49½ ⅝. This Gold will of course come on the market. A leading German broker reports having passed bills at 49½, 4.21 Reichsmark, and 5.20 Antwerp. Government bills were done to-day at 15 p. cent.

The Bank discounted to-day only 3 millions, refusing double that amount.

The Hohenzollern clears to-morrow with 40 first class passengers. She takes

13,000 salted hides
600 bales and fills up at Bahia.

Mr Gardener B. Perry, we learn, leaves in Iberia on a short trip to Europe.

The Memphis has brought 600 tons of wheat; she clears to-morrow.

The Supreme Federal Court to-day condemned the Government of Corrientes to pay $f.30,000, money lent a former Government at 1½ per cent interest, and to pay costs, interest, &c., within 30 days.

Roads and Bridges offered to-day for end June at 80½.

Gold at 4 o'clock ruled firm. Only three more Bolsa days to close the month, and the 'descubiertas' are very heavy. Three millions have to be delivered on 31st, and 5 cents is paid with the paper for gold till end of June.

Messrs. Lamport and Holt will have a steamer for New York at the end of the month, and are now receiving cargo.

We publish in another column the Fair Port scheme. It merits notice as it means the expenditure of 8 million gold dollars in 2½ years on the Riachuelo in labour and Roman cement.

Mr Corrales, who has arrived from the far South, the Mostazos, was welcomed on 'Change; he reports the camps excellent down there, and sheep and cattle doing well; it has rained a good deal down there, and some sales of lands made at $125,000 to 150,000 m|c per league. The Provincial Executive is busily occupied in drawing up the Budget of expenses for 1881, which will naturally be submitted to the Chambers. The managers of the different Government Departments are carefully sending in their respective estimates.

The Central Argentine Railway Company has sent in a note to the National Department of Engineers asking whether the Executive the 'junction line' in Cordoba; the company has sanctioned the arrangement in working the same as heretofore, but has sent in a petition requesting authority to invest the sum of 1,000 pats. for repairs and improvements in the sheds of the Cordoba Station.

On the 1st July the new branch of the Western Railway to San Antonio de Areco will be opened to the public. The line is fast extending to Pergamino; thus opening up the more Northern pastoral districts from 1st July only one train will run to Areco, leaving the Parque Station at 7.10 a.m. and returning at 2.25 p.m.

The Provincial Executive has submitted the following projects of law to the Chambers:—One project is to exempt from this date to 1883 all new buildings for poor boarding houses from the Contribucion Directa tax, the other runs as follows:—

Art. 1—A savings bank is hereby founded under management of the Mortgage Bank.

BALBIN.

A rumour had been spread lately that Telfener was ruined; on the contrary, the Count is making his fame as a turfite and has booked his horse Taquet on the great Italian racecourses. Taquet has won two great races already.

The Umberto I. was delayed three days in St. Vincent, and met with a heavy gale off the Brazilian shores. This accounts for her not arriving this time true to time.

The Ana Rivarola, belonging to Capt. Rivarola, an industrious Italian established many years in the Plate, arrived safely in Genoa; there are glowing accounts of this beautiful barque in the Italian papers to hand. She has loaded in that port over 270 tons of merchandize for the port of Santa Fe.

Mr R Eastman, the popular auctioneer, sold the following properties—

"Lote 2. 18x40 front Calle Independencia valuation ⅔ 10,783 m|c, price 22,500.

We welcome back from Europe Mr Conrad Hughes, son of the much lamented Dn Ricardo Hughes, the well-known English estanciero of the Banda Oriental. Mr Conrad Hughes had a long tour in Europe and finds Banda Oriental affairs improved on his return. Mr. Pilling took leave on Saturday and sailed for Europe on Sunday in the Cordillera, he will return in November.

Commodore Ferguson, of the s.s. Herschell, was welcomed on 'Change, this time he goes back to his old friends in Rosario who will be delighted to see him. The Herschell has brought 415 tons cargo for Montevideo, 588 for Buenos Ayres, 208 for Rosario and 136 tons optional. The people in Rosario may get out their flags and wave them and ring their joy bells when the Herschell arrives up, as she will be the largest steamer that has ever gone up the Parana 326 feet long. Her passengers for Buenos Aires are E G Goodbody Esq. H S Ferguson, Miss Sarah and Anne Farrell, Catherine Hallion, Nicholas Hallion and James Gill.

Our commercial advices from Rosario give the following:—

"About 4,000 bags of flour have come down from the Andine provinces this month, and about 3,000 boxes of dried fruit each of 175 pounds.

"The Stella, Amer. barque, has been despatched by Thomson and Son with 665 bales of wool for New York.

"The steamer Euclid arrived yesterday, bringing a quantity of sugar house machinery for Tucuman. She takes a large quantity of silver come down from Bolivia. One house ships to the value of $f.70,000. This trade from Bolivia is increasing.

"The foundation stone of the Rosario Elevator is to be laid with some solemnity some day next week; the plans and the materials are ready to begin, and Mr Thomas goes to England by next steamer for the necessary machinery.

"The Spanish brig Angelita has just arrived from Pernambuco, with a cargo of 2,200 barrels of sugar, for the large house of Escayols Canals and Co.

Mr Hermann Allgelt, under date of May 21st 1880, publishes a wheat and cereal circular which gives as follows—

"The arrivals of wheat &c. during the last week were:—

	Wheat. Kgs.	Flour. Kgs.	Maize Kgs.
By Rivers	221,247	373,244	10,500

Montevideo	18,640	—	—
Chile	1,144,249	—	—
Total	1,548,870	403,986	413,761

Besides there have arrived 7,039 bags of wheat and 4,917 bags of maize, the weight of which has not yet been determined.

"Wheat is difficult to quote, as the chacareros are in the market, competing with the millers, and buying up small, but very choice lots, paying prices which the millers cannot afford to give. These small lots fetched as high as 320 per 9 ar., whereas the millers have not paid over 285 for superior Coast wheat. 275 was paid for Salado, but it is scarce, and a rise may be expected. Two thousand fanegas of River wheat were sold at 260, 268 and 265. Nothing in Montevideo wheat. In Chilian there are two vessels in port with 10,000 fan., and some of it has been sold at 260-265. The arrival of this Chilian wheat has not affected Argentine wheat, as the food balance necessary to be imported is not so large as supposed. Candial wheat is scarce. Flour is very brisk and prices are firm. Maize rose a little, but has again fallen to 68-69. Exporters are doing little, as the price in Europe leaves a loss. The crop is immense in this province. Bran is going up, 29-31. A little more doing in hay."

The Magic Puzzle has arrived at last, and the intelligent public of Buenos Aires have already shown their appreciation of it.

Enter a house, the first thing one sees is, some member of the family busy with No. 15. Get into a car, and you will see the majority therein busy with his or her little box of 15. In the midst of shaving, your barber stops to tell you that he has nearly won the $1,000 m|c prize, and in his excitement puts the soap brush in your eye or mouth, thinking that he is working at 15.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
(Ex Army Medical Staff)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitations and Spasms.

Extracts from Medical Opinions.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet, Dec. 31st, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq. late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay. 'Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed.

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (December 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collin Browne's Chlorodyne was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera. 'So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, August 1st, 1860, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne, that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION. None genuine without the words 'Dr. J. Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
